Feast Your Eyes

Kate Gordon's art-history lectures continue to delight this term. From Manet to Hirst and Klimt to Emin, with sustenance in Koffmann's private dining room at the Berkeley. Until December 5. londonartstudies.com

A FILIP FOR PHILIP

Philip-Lorca diCorcia's choreography of light, colour, people and props makes East of Eden, at David Zwirner, a must-see (until November 16). With a show at Frankfurt's Schirn Kunsthalle, the re-release of A Storybook Life and a new Pascal Dangin-designed book, Hustlers, this is shaping up to be a diCorcia year. davidzwirner.com

TRUNK SHOW

With her Oceans artwork, Tania Kovats collects water from the world's oceans via her social network. Louis Vuitton is supporting Kovats in her travels to document the project photographically and with films of places where oceans meet. The water will be stored in Louis Vuitton luggage, with an exhibition opening at the Fruitmarket Gallery, Edinburgh, and the Louis Vuitton Maison in New Bond Street in early 2014. tania-kovats-oceans.com
