

LONDON ART STUDIES

Online Learning for Art Lovers Everywhere

Good Web Guide Winner 2018: On Monday November 12, London Art Studies was the proud recipient of The Mission, The Good Web Guide 2018 Award - Education Category.

The awards, presented to websites which display “excellence in their field” were held at The Royal Institution of Great Britain. The judging panel included Holly Tucker of Not On the High Street, serial entrepreneur Jerry Horwood and Sam Crocker Digital Director of The Mission who commented:

"londonartstudies.com is a wonderfully impactful, clear and elegant website. It achieves a great balance of providing a depth and breadth of art content without being stuffy or inaccessible. You get a strong sense of the passionate team behind the website and it contains a number of useful features alongside a wealth of quality video content. The care and thought that has gone into this website is evident throughout. It is a great achievement in learning about art in a user-friendly way."

Kate Gordon, Founder and Director of London Art Studies commented on their win:

“We are absolutely delighted to have been presented with this award and to be in such illustrious company. We are thrilled that our passion for informal, accessible learning came across to the judges.”

We want to change the way you look at art. Forever.
